Poems – A Pure Speech

By Shomit Sirohi

Part I – Tall, and Pristine, She Was Pretty

I.

I am wild,

Lanky

Tall,

I can answer anything.

II.

I was in a house,

Panasonic glasses,

I was in sex with a man,

From the man’s view,

I was lyrics,

Lyrical.

III.

What do some lyrics mean?

A few words,

Like lightness,

Always.

IV.

Light,

Falls on me,

I am alight,

In ballet class,

I was a logic,

She was dancing,

Light fell on us.

V.

What does it mean,

A man was in a beach,

Many years after being

Sedimented,

After an Accident.

Crazy in the head,

Asleep a lot.

He woke up to a beach,

He was in the water,

Shoal.

Part II Women and their Divine Sense

I.

Divine sense,

Divine answers,

Only that

Each point

Predicted.

When I am around you,

I can sense,

Your Body.

II.

Divine,

Sex,

Like that.

Part III Divinity or Calculations

I.

I calculate

The exact,

So exact,

I cannot be refuted.

And then,

Words.

II.

I am on a calculator,

it proves,

Something pure,

In that sense.

III.

What does it mean

To Calculate a small quantity,

Like a calculation says,

Because, of grace,

Spontaneously,

See it also as spontaneously

A simple

Meeting,

If it doesn’t match,

1 and 1 with 20,

It meant in 20 days,

Perhaps something singular happens,

Like a realization instead.

Of the meeting as a bet,

Which is proven,

As, like this thing I was saying,

Surreal.
